May 09, 2022

Our very own Oliver Wheeler and Catherina MacCabe have been featured in the prestigious ‘Power Players in D&O Insurance 2022 – Exceptional Experts Report’.

Read Catherina’s D&O insights on the future risks threatening the business leaders, and an overview of her career, proudest moments and motivations.

Catherina MacCabe, Focus Group Leader, International Management Liability

“The situation of Ukraine, the energy crisis, inflation and the rising prominence of ESG are all additional concerns for business leaders, increasing the potential for claims.”

Oliver Wheeler, International Management Liability Underwriter

With over 26 years’ experience, Oli offers his views on the current D&O market and the shifting demands being placed on insurers by our broker partners and clients.

“The threat of corporate mismanagement remains high – putting reputations under the spotlight. These are difficult market conditions and I fully expect our clients and businesses in general to demand more transparency on how their insurance will respond….

…Yes, we offer innovate insurance solutions, but our role is more than that – we have also been working to advise our clients on risk management and how to build resilience to protect against emerging risks pre-loss. As one of the largest International Management Liability teams in London, all our underwriters are empowered to make decisions based on what is right for our clients."
