

Another reason to choose Full Spectrum Cyber: Introducing Cyber Cash

Melissa Carmichael

A cyber interruption doesn't need to cause serious disruption and pressure on a business. We see every day how even brief downtime can disrupt operations which is why we created Cyber Cash. A simple, fast way that delivers a vital advanced payment to keep our clients moving when it's needed the most. It's the latest enhancement to our Full Spectrum Cyber solution.

What Is Cyber Cash?

Cyber Cash provides a $100,000 advance payment for eligible cyber clients with $35M-$500M in revenue when a covered Business Interruption Loss continues for more than five business days. It delivers fast financial support at a critical moment, helping organizations bridge the gap while claims are fully processed.

Why Cyber Cash Matters

Traditional business interruption claims take time to resolve, often intensifying operational pressure. Cyber Cash helps reduce that uncertainty. Once the shortform documentation is received and reviewed by the underwriter, vital advances are delivered, giving clients the flexibility to manage immediate costs and minimise disruption.

An adaptive Approach to Cyber Risk

Cyber Cash is the latest new capability from our Full Spectrum Cyber solution. By integrating rapid financial relief into our ecosystem, we're helping clients respond faster, recover sooner, and stay ahead in their battle against digital risk.

What Clients Can Expect

- Speed: Quick access to funds when they're needed most
- Fluidity: Freedom to manage covered costs and maintain operations

Cyber Cash is available to US cyber policyholders, with additional jurisdictions to follow.
